

- 0. EXECUTIONS Story Preface
- 1. TAXATION WITHOUT REPRESENTATION
- 2. THE BOSTON MASSACRE
- 3. COLONISTS REBEL
- 4. LET IT BEGIN HERE
- 5. LEXINGTON AND CONCORD
- 6. THE BATTLE OF BUNKER HILL
- 7. WASHINGTON TAKES COMMAND
- 8. AMERICA ESTABLISHES A NAVY
- 9. DRAFTING THE DECLARATION

10. THE VOTE: 13-0

- 11. AMERICA'S FIRST DOLLARS
- 12. LONDON'S REACTION
- 13. TREASON
- 14. TREASON MOST FOUL

15. EXECUTIONS

- 16. MARION'S BRIGADE
- 17. THE TABLES TURN
- 18. SURRENDER AT YORKTOWN
- 19. GENERAL WASHINGTON RESIGNS
- 20. UNANIMOUS PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

In 1783, John Goldar made an engraving of "The Unfortunate Death of Major Andre," after a drawing by William Hamilton. This image was reportedly used in British school books. It is online via the U.S. National Archives (Identifier: 535744).

When the local commander, Lt. Col. Jameson, heard about the developing situation - that someone was betraying West Point to the British - he immediately reported it to his commanding officer: Benedict Arnold! This "heads-up" allowed the American traitor to make a different plan.

By the time events were reported to General Washington, Arnold had escaped. He boarded the Vulture and was taken to British lines.

Andre was not so fortunate.

Washington ordered a Board of Inquiry to investigate the facts. The generals on the Board concluded John Andre, Adjutant-General to the British Army, was a spy because he had disguised his clothes behind enemy lines and traveled with a false name.

The Americans did not want Andre, though. They wanted Benedict Arnold.

The British command thought Washington would follow the unwritten rule of war: Captured generals would not be executed. They knew, however, what would happen if they returned Benedict Arnold.

The British refused to deal.

The generals on the Board of Inquiry recommended that John Andre be executed. General Washington agreed. Concerned about his chief of intelligence, General Clinton wrote to Washington, expressing concern about Andre's situation. Washington responded, politely telling Clinton the decision would stand.

Washington then ordered Andre's execution, to be "carried out this afternoon at five o'clock precisely."

John Andre was hanged. No one wanted that to happen. Both sides respected his gallantry.

The person whom the Americans wanted to hang, Benedict Arnold, first escaped and then wore a British uniform. After the war, he went to England where (but for a brief stay in Canada) he lived the rest of his life. Perhaps the Americans executed Andre in retaliation for the death of Nathan Hale, the 21-year old hero who was caught by the British and hanged as a spy in New York (in 1776). Hale - who at his death allegedly said, "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country" - slipped from life into national legend. Benedict Arnold, on the other hand, fell from honor into unending national disgrace.

EXECUTIONS

It would not have been like Washington to retaliate, however. Perhaps John Andre's execution was meant to set an example.

Meanwhile, in South Carolina, another patriot was setting an example that was frustrating the British to distraction.

See Alignments to State and Common Core standards for this story online at:

http://www.awesomestories.com/asset/AcademicAlignment/EXECUTIONS-American-Revolution-Highlights

See Learning Tasks for this story online at:

http://www.awesomestories.com/asset/AcademicActivities/EXECUTIONS-American-Revolution-Highlights

Media Stream

Execution, by Hanging, of John Andre

The unfortunate death of Major Andre, Oct. 2, 1780. Engraving by Goldar, 1783, from drawing by Hamilton. U.S. National Archives, image 208-LU-25K-7.

Linked Above: Self-portrait, by John Andre, created October 1, 1780. View this asset at: http://www.awesomestories.com/asset/view/Execution-by-Hanging-of-John-Andre

. Jo Ser Kenry blenten .

al de In annever la gener bardlenweis stabler of ste A. aduk Ibast Be barre la remiet Som to inform you; that Bag Partier vastablen under auto dramadiana, sciental ban, juit the next forwards forwards a special time, the determined, but server to refer his sets to the Comminishim wave studying of these of forward efforts, the have reflected, on his for much industry complexies and hillers. I had he cannot be for for the thether being prover in the right of the heavily for followed eventuals. "any model is a start of the theory of the followed eventuals." "any model is a start of the theory of the start of the start "any model."

It had be demonged by the optimized states one binar, and analysis figured means start in a digenised stable for first and the first demons and the first binds of the bearing of the same of the defended instant, and any taken is meaning of the based fills of the backet of the states of the same of the same of the optimized instant, and complete the meaning of the back fills of the same of the taken of the same of the same of the same of the bin way the state back; and same of the same of the back fills for the same of demonstrates of the same of the same of the same of the same of demonstrates of the same of demonstrates of the same o an first in the execution of the course every foreign to the "Afrik of Grays of Town, and such as these near mount to methodies or even the aness in the most distant Orgon; that the grature General Washington's Letter about John Andre General Washington's Papers, U.S. Library of Congress. View this asset at:

http://www.awesomestories.com/asset/view/General-Washington-s-Letter-about-John-Andre

John Andre and Popular Culture

Image online, courtesy the U.S. Library of Congress. View this asset at: http://www.awesomestories.com/asset/view/John-Andre-and-Popular-Culture

Order for Execution of John Andre

General Washington's Papers, U.S. Library of Congress. View this asset at:

http://www.awesomestories.com/asset/view/Order-for-Execution-of-John-Andre

Scene of Execution, Nathan Hale

Image, Central Intelligence Agency web site. View this asset at: http://www.awesomestories.com/asset/view/Scene-of-Execution-Nathan-Hale

EXECUTIONS View this asset at: http://www.awesomestories.com/asset/view/

Nathan Hale - Trailer Trailer for "Nathan Hale," a 2008 film by Vincent M. Biscione. Online, courtesy YouTube. View this asset at: http://www.awesomestories.com/asset/view/Nathan-Hale-Trailer